

From the Pastor.....

I was talking recently with a couple of our families who told me they were heading to Disney World over the Memorial Day weekend. It reminded me of some of the family trips I used to take and it made me cringe. Now, don't get me wrong, I liked taking trips with my family. In fact, just the other day, I was thinking about root canals, IRS audits, shopping and it got me to thinking about our family trips. What I am trying to say is that, yes, family trips can be difficult. First, you have to understand the difference between males and females. You see a man starts a trip thinking, "how many miles can I make in one day?" While the woman is thinking, "how many times can I stop in one day?" And a woman, just doesn't understand competition. Terri will say, "Let's stop at the next rest area," and I'll say, "Not until I pass that Ford." She'll say, "What Ford?" I'll say, "The one that passed me 30 minutes ago that I've been trying to catch." It's downright discouraging stopping at a rest area. A man just can't relax when he sees all those cars racing by that he spent the last two hours passing.

Then you add children to the trip. There is something about two adults and two children travelling in a metal cylinder for 1,000 miles that brings out the worst in everyone. You see kids say things like, "She is breathing my air" or "Her foot is on my side" or the all-time favorite question, "are we there yet."

Well I could go on and on but I have a Ford to catch. Oh, by the way, the spiritual message in this story – make sure you are "prayed up" before you take a family trip. It will help the trip go much better.

I love you all....
